

Clayton County Parks and Recreation Department iLovejoy Recreation Center Naming Competition

The Clayton County Parks and Recreation Department would like your help in naming the new Lovejoy Recreation Center which is scheduled to open in December 2012! The name will appear on the county's website, letterheads, brochures, t-shirts, recreation facilities throughout the county, and much more. The Parks and Recreation Department's goal is to "connect communities through people, parks and programs." In accordance with this motto, we are asking citizens to assist us in naming the Lovejoy Recreation Center. Once all of the submissions are received, we will then post the names on the website and allow citizens to vote on the name they feel most accurately reflects the community in which the park is located, as well as the Parks and Recreation Department. We look forward to this exciting contest and YOU could be the citizen who names a county recreation center!
